	APPENDIX A: The Effective Committee Liaison	17

1 Introduction

The Australian Shepherd Club of America, Inc. (ASCA) is a non-profit corporation incorporated in the State of Washington pursuant to Washington State Non-Profit Code, RCW 24.03. ASCA is registered with the IRS as a 501 (c) 7 non-profit corporation and is subject to all Federal regulations pertaining to such a corporation.

ASCA was founded in 1957 to be a national registry for the Australian Shepherd, with the secondary purpose of sponsoring competitive events for the breed.

The ASCA Articles of Incorporation, the ASCA Bylaws, the ASCA Code of Ethics, and the Policy Book govern ASCA. A Board of Directors elected from the ASCA General Membership administers ASCA. The ASCA President, 1st and 2nd Vice Presidents, Secretary, Executive Secretary, Election Secretary, Membership Secretary, and Treasurer are elected annually by the Board of Directors at the first meeting of the newly elected Board. Officers of the club may be Directors or may be chosen from outside the Board (except the Treasurer who must be a Director).

ASCA opened a central Business Office in Bryan, TX on August 13, 1990. All business and financial functions of the club are conducted from this location. ASCA employs a General Services Attorney, a Trademark Attorney, an Accountant, a Bookkeeper, and a Webmaster. ASCA also employs an editor for the club newsletter – The Aussie Times.

2 ASCA Mission Statement

The Australian Shepherd Club of America is dedicated to maintaining the integrity of its registry and to preserving and promoting the Australian Shepherd as an intelligent working dog with strong herding instinct.

3 ASCA Vision Statement

The Australian Shepherd Club of America will preserve the Australian Shepherd as an intelligent working dog of strong herding and guardian instincts.

4 Director Information

A new ASCA director has much to learn about their role as a member of the Board of Directors, their new peers and colleagues, the inner working of the organization, and the expectations of Board service. This manual was developed to assist newly elected Directors in learning their responsibilities to ASCA and to define their duties as a Director. It will also serve to remind incumbent Directors of their responsibilities and Board process.

Directors Elect shall be admitted to the archive and Board email discussions within a week of the end of the election or August 1st, whichever comes first. Directors Elect may view discussions and comment during that time but not vote until installed in office.

5 Responsibilities & Duties of an Individual Director

While the Board of Directors has basic collective responsibilities, each Director is entrusted with individual responsibilities as a part of their Board membership. The obligations of a Director are considerable and extend well beyond the basic expectations of attending meetings and voting.

It is important to note that individual Directors do not have special privileges, prerogatives, or authority; their obligation is to make corporate decisions. Board members must commit themselves to ASCA as a whole.

Individual Board members are also expected to meet higher standards of personal conduct on behalf of their organization than those usually expected of other volunteers.

5.1 General Expectations of a Director

- Know ASCA's mission, vision, purpose, goals, policies, programs, services, strengths, and needs;

- Perform duties of a Director responsibly, and conform to the level of competence expected from Directors regarding care, loyalty, and obedience to the ASCA members;
- Serve in a leadership position, such as liaison to a standing committee and/or special committee, and undertake special assignments willingly and enthusiastically;
- Avoid prejudiced judgments based on information received from individuals and urge those with grievances to follow established policies and procedures;
- Monitor trends in ASCA members' concerns and interests;
- Bring good will and a sense of humor to the board's deliberations.

5.2 Meetings

- Ask timely and substantive questions on any issue before the Board of Directors, consistent with your conscience and convictions;
- Support the majority decision on issues decided by the Board of Directors;
- Maintain confidentiality of the Board of Directors' executive sessions;
- Speak for the Board of Directors or ASCA only when authorized to do so;
- Suggest agenda items for Board of Directors and committee meetings to ensure significant, policy-related matters are addressed.

5.3 Relationship with Business Office Staff

- Support ASCA's staff through often difficult relationships with groups or individuals;
- Do not ask for special favors from the staff, including special requests for extensive information without prior consultation with the Board of Directors.

5.4 Avoid Conflicts

- Serve ASCA as a whole, rather than any special interest group or constituency. You are obligated to avoid any perception that you represent anything but ASCA's best interests;
- Avoid even the appearance of a conflict of interest and disclose any possible conflicts to the Board of Directors in a timely fashion. Abstain from voting on an issue when a conflict of interest arises;

To meet this requirement and continue to conduct business via e-mail, each face-to-face meeting or conference call meeting should open with a motion to ratify all business conducted via e-mail since the last face-to-face meeting or conference call meeting.

Additional accommodations, flight preferences, incidental expenses, etc. will be the sole responsibility of the Director and will not be reimbursed by ASCA. Travel for spouses, children, dogs, or any other non-official travelers will be at the expense of the Director.

Each Director is responsible for their travel reservations to the National Specialty and Spring Meeting. Individual Directors will make their own airline reservations. ASCA will not pay the expense of any Director to any official ASCA function if that Director does not fulfill their duties during the time of their attendance at the function. (See Policy Book for additional information.)

9 Conflict of Interest

Employees and Board members have an obligation to conduct business within guidelines that prohibit actual or potential conflicts of interest. This statement is directed to all Board members, officers, volunteers, and employees who can influence the actions of ASCA. This policy establishes the only framework within which ASCA wishes its business to operate. The purpose of these guidelines is to provide general directions, so Board members, volunteers, and employees can seek further clarification of issues related to the subject of acceptable standards of operation.

The Board, officers, volunteers, and employees have the responsibility of administering the affairs of ASCA honestly and prudently, exercising their best care, skill, and judgment for the sole benefit of ASCA. Those persons shall exercise the utmost good faith in all transactions involved in their duties and they shall not use their position(s) with ASCA, or knowledge gained for their or others personal benefit. The interests of the organization must have the priority in all decisions and actions.

An actual or potential conflict of interest occurs when a board member, volunteer, or employee is in a position to influence a decision that may result in a personal gain for the employee, board member, officer, relatives, or competing or affinity organizations as a result of ASCA's business dealings. No presumption of guilt is created by the mere existence of a relationship with an outside organization. However, if a Board member, volunteer, or employee has a relationship with an outside organization or club and has any influence on transactions involving purchases, contracts, leases, or decision making this must be disclosed so safeguards can be established to protect all parties.

Personal gain may result not only in cases where an employee, Board member, volunteer, or relative has a significant relationship with another organization that either does business with ASCA or is a competitor of ASCA, but also when an employee, board member, or relative receives any kickback, bribe, substantial gift, or special consideration because of any transactions or business dealings involving ASCA.

ASCA trade secrets, including, but not limited to materials, products, designs, plans, ideas and data, are the property of ASCA and should never be given to an outside organization or individual except through normal channels and with appropriate authorization.

Conflicts of interest may arise in the relations of directors, officers, volunteers, and employees with any of the following third parties:

- Persons and firms supplying goods and services to ASCA;
- Persons and firms from whom ASCA leases property and equipment;
- Persons and firms whom ASCA is dealing with or planning to deal with;
- Competing or affinity organizations;
- Donors and others supporting ASCA;
- Agencies, organizations, and associations which affect the operations of ASCA;
- Family members, friends, and other employees;
- Holding office, serving on the board, participating in management, or being otherwise employed (or formally employed) in any third party dealing with ASCA.

The areas of conflicting interest listed are not exhaustive. Conceivably, conflicts might arise in other areas or through other relations. It is assumed that Board members, volunteers and employees will recognize such areas and relations by analogy and immediately disclose any conflicts. In such circumstances an employee or volunteer must, and Board members should, remove themselves from the discussion and approval of the transactions. Any improper transfer of materials or disclosure of information constitutes unacceptable conduct. An employee or volunteer who participates in such a practice shall be subject to disciplinary action, up to and including dismissal.

APPENDIX A: The Effective Committee Liaison

The committee liaison is the conduit between a committee and the Board of Directors. The governing documents for a committee liaison are the Committee Procedures, the Board Policy Book, and the Bylaws.

1 Becoming a Liaison

Each committee nominates and votes for a Director to act as liaison between the committee and the Board. The Liaison is not a member of the committee but is responsible for explaining to the Committee what the Board's position is and ensure that the committee adheres to the Committee Procedures, Board Policy and Roberts Rules of Order.

The Liaison must fully understand the committee's recommendations, so he/she may help the Board understand the Committee's position on an issue. The Liaison does not participate or interfere with the deliberations of the Committee and may not change any recommendation made by the Committee. The Liaison must understand the Committee's position and present it to the Board of Directors as the Committee's spokesperson. The Liaison must present a Committee proposal to the Board of Directors as a motion. No second is necessary.

The Liaison notifies the Committee chair of all appointments to the Committee.

The Liaison should research his/her Committee e-group to become aware of all aspects of the committee, its past and present work, and any procedures other than standard that have been approved for his/her committee. The Liaison should create a committee listing to include the names, addresses, regions, contact information, and appointment year. The Liaison provides the Business Office the current committee roster for publication in the Aussie Times.

2 Appointment of Committee Members

Committee members are appointed at the Nationals or at the Spring Meeting. Vacancies may also be filled at other times during the year by the Board of Directors, as recommended by the Liaison.

The Liaison should maintain a file of all committee résumés submitted to the Board by the Executive Secretary. These résumés should be brought to the Board Meeting for reference during the Meeting. These résumés can be either electronic or printed but must be easily accessible. During the meeting at the time the committee for which the Director is Liaison is up for consideration, the Liaison should be prepared to report the committee members who wish to remain on the committee and those who wish to be appointed and make recommendations for appointments based on the Committee Procedures and the regions which have openings. The Liaison should be prepared to answer Board questions regarding reasons for those who are or are not being appointed. Some committees have alternate procedures.

If the Committee has openings for members and résumés are received that would complete a region, the Liaison can make a motion (no second required) to appoint a new committee member.

Once the Liaison has notified the chairperson of all appointments to the committee, the chair will then forward committee members names and Committee Procedures to all committee members.

3 Committee Exemptions

Approved committee exemptions will be filed in the office of the Executive Secretary along with the Board motion and voting to approve/disapprove the committee request. If disapproved, the Board will explain to the committee why it was disapproved.

A file titled "Committee Exemptions" will be established and maintained in the Executive Secretary's office for ASCA Committees (whether Executive, Standing or any other type of Committee the Board appoints) who have been granted exemptions from any part of the ASCA Committee Procedures, stating what they are exempt from and why they are to be exempt. The Board vote on the Committee exemption must also be kept in the same file for historical reasons.

In order to be exempt from any part of the Committee Procedures, the committee must vote on what exemption they need and state why. They will forward their decision to the ASCA Board via the Liaison. The Board votes to approve/disapprove the committee's request, in writing, with a copy of the decision returned to the Committee, via the Liaison and a copy filed by the Executive Secretary in the Committee Exemptions file.

4 Abiding by the Committee Procedures

Any committee member may raise issues for discussion. All issues received from the General Membership, Judges, non-members, Directors or committee members must be sent to the chairperson who will distribute issue(s) to the committee members and Board Liaison and be assigned a priority. Requests from the BOD are a top priority. The committees are encouraged to discuss ideas presented before making a motion.

All votes are to go directly to the chair who at the end of the voting period will tabulate the votes and send the results along with committee member comments to the committee and to the Board Liaison for distribution to the Board. The chair will, if needed, explain in writing, the Committee's recommendation to the Board.

The Board Liaison will then forward the recommendation from the committee to the Executive Secretary in the form of a motion (no second necessary) for distribution to the Board for discussion, comment, questions, and voting.

If the Board has questions and/or comments, they must be made before the call for the vote. Comments or questions will be sent back to the committee by the Liaison for their answers, input or action and returned to the Board via the Liaison during the Board's comment period, time permitting. If the liaison can answer the question, however the question and answer will both be sent back to the committee.

4.1 Discrepancies in Procedure

If an issue arises that falls outside the outlined procedures herein, the Committee Liaison should be contacted. The Liaison shall instruct the committee on the procedures which should be pursued, using the ASCA Board of Directors voting procedures and Roberts Rules of Order.

5 Motions to the Board

Material to be included with the recommendation to the Board of Directors:

- A. Motion with a second
- B. Voting results
- C. The committee chairperson will forward pertinent committee members' (if any) comments to the Liaison for distribution to the Board

When notifying the Committee and the Board of voting results for the committee, members names and how they voted must be listed unless it is deemed by the Liaison and ASCA President that the issue is of such a sensitive nature the vote should remain confidential. When publishing votes in the Aussie Times, Secretary's Report and/or any approved ASCA e-mail list only the final count must be published.

6 Presenting Board Vote Results to the Committee

The Liaison reports the Board vote results on any of the committee motions to the committee. The Liaison should provide only the results. The Liaison should not comment about the Board vote allowing the committee to make up its own mind about the Board vote. The Liaison must refrain from any editorial comments that give the appearance of lack of support for the Board decision. The committees are the experts on the programs that they represent. The committee makes recommendations to the Board and the Board must determine whether that recommendation is in the best interest of ASCA. If the decision is contrary to the committee's recommendation the Liaison may offer to get feedback from the Directors regarding their decision. Doing this in the least inflammatory manner possible will maintain the working relationship between the Board and the committee on a high level. Relations between the Board and the committee can be worsened by the Liaison's delivery of information to the committee.

7 Committee Chair Reports

The committee chairperson prepares a detailed report for each issue of the Aussie Times. This report includes, but is not limited to, the following:

- A. All issues sent to the Board with the committee's recommendation since the last report. Each of these issues should be accompanied by a short description.
- B. All issues, with short descriptions, under consideration by the committee.
- C. In any Aussie Times Report and/or any approved ASCA e-mail list deemed necessary by the chair, a request for resumes to fill any upcoming openings in the Committee may be made.
- D. The last paragraph of the report should be, "The Committee welcomes your comments on these issues".
- E. This report must be approved in writing by the Board Liaison before being submitted via e-mail or regular mail to the Aussie Times editor prior to the deadline published in the Aussie Times.

8 Handling Correspondence and Meetings

The committee chairperson must answer all correspondence directed to the Committee providing whatever answers or assistance is requested. A copy of the correspondence and answer must be forwarded onto the Committee and Liaison. If unable to help the person who is writing the Committee, the Chairperson must refer the person to the office or Director who may be of assistance.

It is the ASCA Board of Directors policy that all material from ASCA Committees and Officers must have the approval of the liaison before it will be printed in the Aussie Times. The offices that do not have a liaison will send their material to the ASCA President for approval. This material must be in the hands of the liaison in sufficient time to allow for review and forwarding to the Aussie Times editor.

If at any time a committee member believes the chair is not carrying out his/her duties, the committee member may contact the Liaison for resolution. This situation has to be handled on a case-by-case basis. The Liaison may have to approach the chair about the committee member's concerns working with the chair to solve any problems. In the most extreme case the Liaison may have to encourage the chair to resign.

Committees may schedule one conference call each year at ASCA expense, which will include all Committee Members and the Board Liaison. The Agenda for this call must be submitted to the Board two weeks prior to the call. The purpose of the call is to allow the entire Committee to be in touch at least once each year and enable them to discuss issues of a complex nature.

Letters to the Editor containing questions, comments and complaints regarding an ASCA program, standing committee or Executive committee shall be sent within forty-eight (48) hours by fax or e-mail to the Board liaison by the Aussie Times editor prior to publication. Five (5) working days are allowed for the liaison to send a response for inclusion in the same issue. If the five (5) days fall on an Aussie Times deadline, the letter will be held until the next issue.

9 Additional Liaison Responsibilities

ASCA will pay $200.00 toward expenses to Committee Chairs selected to attend the National Specialty each year. Chairs will be selected at the annual spring meeting, if no annual spring meeting is held, selection will be done via email by May 1st. Chairs will be notified by their Board Liaison within 15 days of selection and must notify their Board Liaison if they will attend no later than August 1st. No money is given if a Chair chooses not to attend.

Board Members may be added to any or all Committees email groups of their choosing as read-only and will not participate in committee discussions.
